Nothing About Us

Without Us!

What is Self-Advocacy?

People First believes that people with disabilities should be treated as equals and given the same decisions, rights, choices, responsibilities, and chances to speak up and empower themselves.

Self-Advocacy means being informed and included in the conversation. It means speaking up for ourselves and being heard when decisions are being made about our lives.

Self-Advocacy means making choices about where we live, where we work, what we do for fun, who we share our lives with, how we spend our money, and taking responsibility for those choices. It means we have equal access to all the things that make life good.

Why Should You Join People First of Nebraska?

People First is a disability rights organization run by and for people with disabilities. Local chapters meet to learn from each other and practice our advocacy skills. We volunteer to give back to our communities. We tell our elected officials what is important to us. We work with our families, our service providers, and other organizations to build the lives we want.

At our state convention we share our stories, learn more about self-advocacy, see old friends & make new ones, and have some fun!

The members of People First encourage all people with disabilities to join us to improve the quality of life for everyone with a disability.

Why Should Your Organization Support People First of Nebraska?

We invite our community partners without disabilities who share in our goals and beliefs to support us by volunteering your time and joining us as associate members!
